Corporate Overview

MS-INNOTECH is a Korean-based company founded in 2002 with the ultimate goal of developing encryption solutions for data security. In 2003, our data encryption technology earned a “KOREA GOOD TECHNOLOGY MARK” from the Ministry of Information And Communication, Republic Of Korea. MS-INNOTECH’s data encryption technology provides enhanced security options for vital organizations such as governments, the military, enterprises, laboratories and research institutions.

MS-INNOTECH data encryption is based on pure hardware logic circuits which differs substantially from the widely used software encryption products on the market. To access any encrypted data, the users identity must be authenticated using another factor such as a smart key, computerized fingerprint, or RFID.

Presently, MS-INNOTECH has deployed a hard disk drive with its own data security encryption technology. Also it has developed and started test running its own security computers which require data encryption and user authentication
